COMMUNITY PICNIC TO BE HELD IN CITY PARK FRIDAY SEPT. 17

Date is Set and Preliminary Arrangements Are Made at Meeting Friday Night

FARMERS TO PROVIDE FOOD

Tickets Will be Issued to Business Men and Others For Dinners On That Day

ENTERTAINMENT IS PLANNED

Rush County Farmers Association Will Have Co-operation of Merchants

With committees appointed and plans made but not completed, the aim of the business men of Rushville and the Rush County Farmers association is to make Friday, September 17, when the community picnic will be held, one of the biggest days in the history of Rush county.

At a meeting of business men and officers of the farmers association Friday night, the date was set, the city park was selected as the place and tentative arrangements were made, when the farmers of the county will play host to the citizens of Rushville and attempt to "go them one better".

The "ice was broken" and the first step was taken in the direction of a better community spirit which would bring the county together as a unit, when the business men of Rushville entertained the farmers at Farmers Day last March. A county dinner party was given, at which farmers and their families were guests, a corn show was held and entertainment was provided for the women and men.

After that event, which received the commendation of the farmers, it was suggested by the farmers themselves that their association hold a big picnic for the people of Rushville after the harvest. The association has been working all summer with that aim in view and the officers of the organization are a unit in desiring to make it a big success.

They called the business men in last night for their advice in regard to details and for their assistance in making arrangements. Business men were placed on a number of the committees to co-operate with the farmers.

Tickets will be issued for the dinners, which will in all probability be served in cafeteria style, and the farmers and their wives will provide the fried chicken and everything. It was suggested, in fixing the date, last night that it be made about the middle of September because the "fries" would be "riper" then.

Tents will be provided so that in case of rain the event will not be spoiled, and whatever program is arranged can be conducted in the coliseum. An effort will be made to get a speaker of note to discuss community topics and subjects of interest to farmers. Entertainment features will also be arranged.

A resolution was adopted last night, calling on all business men of Rushville to close their places of business between the hours of ten and four the day of the picnic.

The following committees which were appointed, are expected to do something between now and September 1 when their chairmen will be called together for reports on the progress made:

Tents—Clen Miller, Ray Compton, Clarence Carr and Everett Batson.
Entertainment—Walter F. Easley, Frank Abercrombie, Roy E. Harrold and the township chairmen of the farmers association: M. F. Lovett, Ripley, Gurnie Swain, Posey; J. M. Wissing, Walker; George W. Hardesty, Orange; Charles McBride, Center; Elmer E. Porter Jackson; Will Brown, Rushville; W. B. Crane, Anderson; Fred Lightfoot, Washington; Jesse Peters, Union; Walter Norris, Noble; Harold L. Beall, Richland.

Pie and Watermelon Served To Soldiers By Industrial Club

The detachment of thirty soldiers who have been camping in the city park for the past few days, were honored last evening by the Industrial club when the ladies presented them with warm pies and watermelons for their suppers. Also other ladies not members of the club, in the vicinity of the park, gave the service men pies. The soldiers have been shown unusual courtesies during their stay in this city, which they greatly appreciated. The outfit leaves early in the morning for Lake McCoy, southeast of Greensburg, where they will give a stunt program tomorrow afternoon at the invitation of the manager of the park.

MARTIAL LAW IN FORCE IN DENVER

Resumption of Street Car Strike Riots Friday Night Makes Drastic Action Imperative.

TROOPS, CIVILIANS ON DUTY
Dispatch Direct From West Frankfort, Ill., Where Mob Rules, Reports Only One Death

(By United Press.)
Denver, Colorado, Aug. 7.—Martial law was proclaimed in Denver today as the result of the street car strike riots which were resumed again last night.

In addition to one thousand civilian volunteers and policemen the city was being patrolled by 150 federal troops.

Five hundred soldier troops were enroute from Camp Funston, Kas. After two nights of rioting in which five men were killed and more than fifty injured, including two women bystanders, the city was rather quiet today.

West Frankfort, Ill., Aug. 7.—An Italian was found dead here this afternoon with his head smashed in with an ax. This is the first death so far in the rioting which has sporadically gripped the town during the past three days.

At the time the man was killed more than 500 military men were patrolling the streets.

Rumors have been in circulation all morning regarding others killed. Every attempt to verify them failed.

The mob composed of coal miners who have been on strike for some time, is believed to have killed the two boys, Tony Hempill and Amel Calcatera, who were found dead in a wood yesterday.

Blackhand murder rumors and rumors of an Italian gang of bank robbers were circulated freely. The leader of the mob is believed to have been an owner of a pool room. His place of business was visited by the mob and ransacked.

The attention of the mob was turned to a Cicilian Club house home on the outskirts of the town. The house was completely destroyed and several other houses were burned.

DRIVE ON WARSAW CHECKED

(By United Press.)
Slowing up of the Bolshevik drive against Warsaw relieved the tension in Europe today and gave France and Great Britain a "breathing spell" before finally deciding what action, if any, to take to help the Poles.

Dispatches from European capitals today indicated the Bolsheviks had not made any recent big gains toward Warsaw, although they are pushing toward Lemberg.

FREIGHT CARS DERAILED

Accident at Liberty Delays Traffic on C. I. & W. This Morning

Three freight cars derailed in Liberty this morning on the C. I. & W. railroad, caused the eastbound passenger train, due here at 5:35, to be detoured to Cincinnati by the way of the Big Four railroad from this city. Train number 40, westbound passenger for Chicago, due here at 10:48, was detoured from Cincinnati to Indianapolis over the Pennsylvania by the way of Richmond and the train from Cincinnati to Indianapolis was annulled. The cars were put back on the track by noon today, and regular traffic was resumed.

FOUR MEN HELD ON $1,000 BOND

Quartet Accused of Clothing Store Robbery Tell Sheriff It Was Planned Year Ago

PLACE WAS "TIPPED OFF"

Alleged Burglars Waited Until The Lights Were Extinguished—Ransacked Store in 20 Minutes

Jason Reese, of near Muncie, brother-in-law of Fred and Ed Beemer, came this afternoon for the purpose of providing a cash bond for their appearance and he awaited the arrival of Judge Sparks, who was expected to be here by four o'clock. In all probability the bond for each one will be placed at $1,000, but it is necessary for the court to establish a bond, before the men can be released.

Russell Shepherd, Fred Beemer, James Martin and Edward Beemer, the four men who were arrested night before last in Muncie, charged with store breaking in connection with the robbery of the Knecht Clothing store in this city on July 21, were brought here late yesterday afternoon and placed in jail where they will probably remain until the September term of court, unless they can provide the $1,000 bond under which they will probably be placed.

The four men were brought here on the Big Four passenger train arriving at four o'clock yesterday afternoon, in charge of Sheriff Jones and A. C. Stevens, prosecuting attorney, who made the trip to Muncie Continued on Page Three

HITS POLE IN ORDER TO AVOID COLLISION

Serious Accident Narrowly Avoided When Readle Casady Drives Car on Lawn

RAIN OBSCURED HIS VIEW

A serious accident was narrowly averted yesterday afternoon during the storm, when an automobile owned by E. R. Casady and driven by his son, Readle, went onto the lawn at the corner of First and Harrison streets, in order to keep from striking another machine, and before the machine could be stopped it had crashed into a telephone pole, breaking off the front right wheel.

Casady was going west on First street, and another machine driven by John K. Tompkins was coming south on Harrison, and because of the heavy downpour, the two machines almost collided, but Casady swung his machine onto the lawn, scraping a tree and lodging into the pole.

Besides the front wheel being broken off, the running board on that side was demolished and the fenders broken beyond repair. Both machines were large seven passenger cars, and had they come together a serious accident would probably have resulted.

SEVERAL PROPERTIES SOLD

Number of Rushville Homes Change Hands in Last 10 Days

Several pieces of Rushville property have changed hands within the last ten days, the sales being made by Mrs. Lila Retherford. The considerations were not made public, and the properties involved are as follows:

Charles M. Norris property in East Tenth street to Ben Gardner; Miss Anna Geraghty's property in North Sexton street to George Heck; William Barlow's property in East Eleventh to Miss Clara Martin; Miss Alice Norris' property in North Sexton street to William Barlow, and the Albert Fleechart property in West Fifth street to Charles A. Mauzy.

WOMEN SHOW AN ACTIVE INTEREST

New Precinct Workers Attend The Republican Meeting and Hear Explanation of Duties

WATSON AND BOSSERT TALK

Value of Complete Poll to Check up on Voters Registration Day is Emphasized

All doubt about Rush county women taking an interest in politics was removed today by the attendance and the interest shown at the meeting of the republican workers of the county, which was held in the court house assembly room.

The men and women precinct committeemen and other workers were entertained at dinner at the Scanlan hotel at noon and the afternoon was devoted to a set program at which Walter F. Bossert of Liberty, district chairman, presided.

Other speakers this afternoon were Mrs. Clarence Martindale, of Indianapolis, women's chairman of Marion county, and Senator James E. Watson. Before all of the guests of the county central committee, which played host at dinner, were assembled this afternoon, Mrs. Elizabeth Claypool Earl of Connersville, women's district chairman, made a short informal speech to the women on the importance of Continued on Page Six

REVIEWERS CALLED IN SESSION MONDAY

Board Will Decide Whether Law Contemplates Individual Assessments May be Revised

MANY DOUBT THAT IT DOES

The county board of review, which was called today by County Auditor McMillin to convene Monday, will likely decide at its initial meeting whether the Tuthill-Kiper tax law, which provides for the special session of the board, contemplated that the board should take up individual complaints in regard to assessments.

The opinion seems to prevail among men who have studied the law, as well as among the farmers of the bill, that it was intended for the county reviewers to consider the taxing units as a whole. It is pointed out by tax authorities that if the cases of individuals were open to revision, endless confusion would result.

It was pointed out today that taxpayers had an opportunity during the tax assessment season last spring to get recourse. Approximately fifty taxpayers in this county filed out appeals to the state board, alleging their assessments were too high. Every appeal was granted as asked.

Taxing officials pointed out today that the increase of two million dollars in the personal property in this county this year, over and above the state board increases, was vindication enough of the horizontal increases.

ACCEPTANCE SPEECH INDICATES PEACE TREATY AS MAIN ISSUE

Cox Leaves Out Insert in Speech And Interest Lags

Dayton, Ohio., Aug. 7.—Governor Cox surprised newspaper men this morning by telephoning from Trail End, that there would be no insert in his speech of acceptance.

It had been the intention to make an important insert at the last minute and interest in the matter was keen.

He offered no explanation as to why he had abandoned the idea, nor did he hint anything about the character of the important insert.

Shortly after ten o'clock, in fulfillment with the weatherman's forecast, a series of light showers began, continuing throughout the morning.

2:00 p. m. Prelude—Hadley Concert Company.

3:00 p. m. Lecture—Prof. George D. Wham.

7:30 p. m. Grand Concert—Hadley Concert Company.

The weather permitting, Rush county chautauqua officials are expecting one of the largest opening day crowds in the history of the chautauqua, when the sixteenth annual session gets under way Sunday afternoon.

The interest manifested this year is the best since the chautauqua has become a fixed institution in Rushville. Never before were the guarantors' season tickets all sold so quickly and never before were so many $2 season tickets sold before the opening day.

This in itself is evidence enough of the way the program has been received by the people of the county and also shows the popularity of the talent which has been selected. Persons who have followed the chautauqua closely in Rushville agree that the music this year as a whole is far above the average. Likewise, many celebrated people have been engaged for addresses.

No single lecturer is expected to make a wider or more effective appeal than will Charles E. Watkins of Muncie, who speaks tomorrow at 3 and 8:15 p. m. As social welfare worker for the General Motors Company, he has come in contact with all phases of human activity and knows human nature. His messages are optimistic in tone for he maintains that all people are inherently good and that they generally aim to be right and will do right if their motives are not misinterpreted. Gov. Cox, Democratic Presidential Nominee, Denounces Senator Harding's Policies

SPEECH IS FULL OF SARCASM

Says Harding's Peace Policy Means That a Separate Peace With Germany Will be Result

LEAGUE ISSUE WAS BIG THEME

Asserts That First Duty Will be to Ratify The Peace Treaty Without Past Recollections

By HERBERT W. WALKER (U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Dayton, O., August 7.—Governor James M. Cox today formally accepted the Democratic nomination for the presidency and sharply acknowledged the peace treaty as the leading issue of the forthcoming political war.

In a speech bristling with attacks, direct and sarcastic, he denounced Senator Harding's proposals for effecting peace as "disheartening," "unworthy," "bungling diplomacy," and "unadulterated dishonesty."

The Harding promise for a "formal and effective peace so quickly as a Republican Congress can pass its declaration for a Republican executive to sign," Cox declared "means but one thing—a separate peace with Germany."

Such a course the Democratic nominee viewed with abhorrence, seeing in it a withdrawal of good faith pledged to the allies "for the enforcement of terms upon offending powers." On the issue of League or no League Cox took an unequivocal position.

"Senator Harding," he said, "as the Republican candidate for the presidency proposes in plain words that we remain out of it. As the Democratic candidate I favor going in."

But, while declaring "the first duty of the new administration clearly will be the ratification of the treaty," Cox cautioned, "the matter should be approached without thought of the bitterness of the past." And, admitting that the claim that interpretations are unnecessary might be true, Cox, nevertheless, took the position that a basis for agreement must be reached and that interpretations would be "re-assuring to many of our citizens who feel that in signing the treaty there should be no mental reservations not expressed in plain words."

As interpretations in the league covenant, Cox again suggested the two reservations which he outlined to the United Press shortly after his nomination. These provide for a declaration that the United States serves notice it must at all times act in strict harmony with the terms and intent of its constitution which cannot in any way be altered by the treaty-making power" and that the fundamental purpose of the league is the prevention of war.

He showed plainly that his position would be with those desiring to get the treaty ratified so long as the agreement for such ratification did not injure the covenant.

The greatest thought in the governor's speech obviously was devoted to his treatment of the league issue. There was no mention in the address of the prohibition question. The only statement that might be construed as a reference to the subject being his declaration that "the public official who fails to enforce the law is an enemy both to the constitution and to the American principle of majority rule. It would seem quite unnecessary," he added, "for any candidate for the presi-

LEWIS SAID HE DID NOT OPPOSE THE BILL

Township Trustee Admits, However, He Tried to Have Salary Law Amended in Legislature

WANTED IT EFFECTIVE LATER

Lew Lewis, Walker township trustee, who, in the capacity of the chairman of legislative committee of the State Township Trustees association, acted as a lobbyist in the special session of the legislature, declared today that he was not opposed to the teacher's salary law which was passed, but that he did try to get it amended.

Lewis says that he voiced the sentiment of the trustees in trying to have the bill changed to take effect June 1, 1921, instead of this fall, so as not to interfere with teachers' contracts for this year, which were made on the basis of the amount of revenue to be raised. The attorney-general has ruled the law will not affect next year's contracts.

He declared that the increases the bill gives many teachers will make many township's school expenses more than the taxes they will receive. The Walker township trustee also stated the law was unfair because it did not classify teachers according to experience but places the new teacher on the same plane as the inexperienced one.

dency to say that he does not intend to violate his oath of office." The ceremonies were held at the county fair grounds, a short distance from the business center of Dayton and surrounded by the buildings of the National cash register plant. Cox spoke from a platform erected in front of two large grandstands. Many persons were unable to obtain seats and swarmed to the race track in front of the stands.
It followed the speech of notification by Senator Joseph T. Robinson, Arkansas, who was permanent chairman of the San Francisco convention. A parade of all visiting Democrats, which was reviewed by Cox, preceded the ceremonies.
Dayton is crowded with Democrats from all over the country, with large delegations from Ohio and surrounding states. Senator Harding's town of Marion was represented; many were here from Columbus and Cincinnati, but the happiest delegation seemed to be the one from his old home town of Middleton, many of whom knew "Jimmy" Cox as a boy.
The city is gaily decorated and the fair grounds buildings are a mass of flags.
Governor and Mrs. Cox will entertain the Democratic national and the notification committees with a luncheon at his beautiful country home, Trail's End.
In problems of readjustment the candidate declared "one of the first things to be done is repeal of war taxes." He criticized the last Republican Congress for "not passing a single law to lift a load of war taxation that cannot be tolerated in time of peace." He promised if elected, a reduction totaling more than $2,000,000,000 annually in federal taxes.
"Annoying consumption taxes now unjustified should be repealed" he said. Incomes from war-made fortunes, those of non-producers and those derived from industries "that exist by unfair privilege" might be taxed as now, Cox declared, but taxes on the earnings of laborers, salaried and professional men, agricultural producers and small tradesmen "should be sharply modified."
He suggested in place of the present graduated excess profits tax a levy of from one to one-half per cent on the "total business of every going concern."
In advocating a budget system, Cox said that through it he could hold annual government expenses down to $40,000,000,000, including a sinking fund and interest of the war debt.
To meet high cost of living problems Cox recommended a more just proportion between "fair profits to business and fair prices to the consumer." He emphasized the necessity for greater production and to this end warned that both labor and the farmer must get a more equitable share the former through assurance of profits equal to those in other activities. Cox supported the principle of collective bargaining but added that "we need a definite and precise statement of policy as to what business men and working men may do and may not do by way of combination and collective action."
More home building and greater Americanization work was advocated by the governor as a means of combatting seditious agitation.
Despite concern among some Democratic leaders that Cox would be guided too much by the White House, there was little in the address to indicate Wilson domination. He mentioned the President's name but three times, once in an attack on Republican "discourtesy to the President," which he branded as "an affair of political intrigue."
"History," he said, "will make it odious. As well might it be directed at a wounded soldier of the war. One fell in the trench; the strength of the other was broken in the enormous labors of his office." The nominee then took occasion to attack the Republicans for alleged failure to pay tribute to the work of the American army, navy and government in the world war.

Collective Brains

There is no dearth of brains in this town. We have an abundance, and to spare.

But they are mostly individual brains, operating individually and for the benefit of the individual.

What we need is collective brains—the brains of many individuals who co-operate in enterprises for the common good of all.

Much can be accomplished through the collective use of the brain power of Rushville, but little can be expected if each individual centers his brain upon his own individual pursuits and refuses to permit it to function beyond that point. Individual operation of brain power is good, but both individual and collective power is better—much better.

The man who has but few brains needs them all for himself.

Those who have been richly endowed by nature in this respect can afford to devote a portion of their mental activities toward community betterment.

Living in Our Income

The United States is now living within its income, according to the report of the secretary of the treasury for the fiscal year which ended June 30. The report shows that the income which might readily have been turned into a deficit amounting to $648,470,994.97, according to Representative Frank W. Mondell of Wyoming if the last congress had accepted the estimates of the administration for the expenses of the government during the year. The same report of the secretary of the treasury shows that in the last year the public debt has been reduced $2,297,380,180. Further reduction in the expenses of the Government and in the public debt is promised during the present year by the action of the congress in saving $1,474,422,602.16 below the estimates of the present administration.

American firms have been shipping coal to Europe at the approximate rate of 3,000,000 tons a month. Counting twelve tons to the family, one month's supply of the coal that is being sent to Europe would keep 250,000 American families warm from the beginning to the end of next winter. THE HUMAN HANKER.

We may believe (or claim to) that we like to be alone—To "think"! How can we, do it with our bonnets packed with bone? But give a man his preference with neither lure nor string, And he'll have folks around him for the comfort that they bring.

He'll leave the grandest scenery an artist ever viewed, And hunt up human beings, though they be debased and crude. He wants to hear folks talk and laugh, or fight, or swear or sing—He's got to have folks 'round him, for the comfort that they bring.

Merit Rewarded.

The man who resists evil tendencies had had a horrible night in the sleeper, owing to the heat and the disturbances.

The porter woke him for the wrong town, just as he had started in on his first sound sleep of the night.

He left his toilet set in the wash-room and somebody swiped it.

He rushed into the lunchroom at the breakfast station, and asked for some provender, including buttered toast.

When it came in, it was not buttered. The waiter apologized, and the good man assured him it was all right.

The waiter then spilled the coffee all over the counter, so that the man was saturated with it.

But the patron only smiled politely, though yearning to kill the stupid chump.

As he was standing at the cashier's desk patiently explaining to her that she had short-changed him, he heard the blundering waiter say to his side-partner:

"That guy's a nut."

In the treatment and cure "without the use of the knife" of Piles, Fistula, Fissure, Prostatic Enlargement, Rupture, Chronic Diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder, Obstruction, Rheumatism, Stomach, Bowels and all other curable Chronic Diseases.

No Matter How Obstinate or How Contracted — Cured

When I say I can cure you, you can depend upon it, for I know from the successful results in thousands of similar cases to yours, just what I can accomplish. Grateful patients treated by me are constantly recommending others, and this is why I possess such a large practice.

Men! Women! If you do less than you should, on your farm, at your desk, or in your shop, you are in some way weak. If you can't accomplish all that you expect or hope for, you are the silent sufferer from some hidden disease that affects one or more of the important nerve centers of the body. These neglected or unknown conditions, are usually diseases of the Pelvic System, which reflexly act upon the organs of Elimination, digestion and the nervous system, which in turn has its influence on the brain. I have made a special study of the Nervous System and have perfected methods that will cure where ordinary methods have failed. I will give you a searching and thorough examination FREE, thus determining the exact location of your trouble.

BEAR IN MIND that I have in Indianapolis one of the most modern and thoroughly equipped offices in the state with a Specialist in charge who is ripe in years of experience, rich and mature in learning in his chosen work. That neither one of us will promise you more than we can give, and should you be unable to see me on date specified above, you can write, or better still, call at my home office, 314 Traction Terminal Building, Indianapolis.

I do not use the knife, neither do I do any cutting.

Last Night's Dreams
—What They Mean

HORSES

ACCORDING to the oracles of Delphi, Jupiter Amon and Dodona, to Simon Magus and the lesser magicians of modern times who unlock the future for a dollar a peep, to dream of a horse is good luck. Preferably a white horse should be dreamed of, for that announces to the dreamer unexpected riches. If your horse is black your good fortune will not be so great or so complete as it will be if he is white. The intermediate grades of color denote the amount of your good fortune. To see yourself riding a horse—preferably a large, bony one—means success. If a woman dreams that she is riding on a large, showy horse it indicates that the fates have picked out for her—provided she is an unmarried woman of course—a rich husband who will make her happy. But for anyone to dream that he or she is riding a horse is a sign that he or she is about to rise a step higher in the world. But don't fall off. If you do some misfortune is in store for you. None, perhaps, that you will not be able to surmount, for the general beneficent effect of dream horses is so potent that even a fall from one will not be an irreparable misfortune. To dream that you are trading horses foretells that someone is going to get the best of you in a bargain—which would indicate that horse trades run true to form in the world of dreams as well as in the world of actualities. To dream that you are buying a horse is a sign that you will make money by some speculation or a real estate deal. But if you dream that you are selling a horse don't speculate—you will lose. If your dream horse is restive it means that you have much hard work to go through before you achieve the success which your dreaming of him foretells. The dream horse, it should be distinctly understood, is no relation to the nightmare whatever.

VICTORIES ABROAD HELP GAME IN U. S.

Johnson's Participation in National Singles Expected to Attract a Large Crowd

TILDEN GREAT TENNIS PLAYER

Has at His Command a Greater Variety of Strokes Than the Champion—Hasn't Ability to Control

(By United Press.)

New York, Aug. 7.—The triumphal return of America's tennis ace from conquering Europe's best both in the Davis cup preliminaries and in the national tournament at Wimbledon is bound to have a very strong effect in stimulating tennis in the United States. Also the fact that William M. Johnston, our national champion, will be allowed to enter the challenge round in the national singles at Forest Hills is bound to attract one of the greatest crowds that ever witnessed a tennis match.

When William T. Tilden, survived the eliminations in the Wimbledon tournament while Johnston was beaten has led a great many followers of the net game to acclaim Tilden a greater tennis player than Johnston. It is extremely doubtful, however, if this is the case, although Tilden probably has improved some over his game of a year ago.

It will be recalled that Tilden defeated Johnston about a year ago at Longwood but that when the actual tennis test came that at Forest Hills in the national singles—Johnston came through with a remarkable display of court work and defeated Tilden in the final round.

Aside from Maurice McLoughlin this country never has seen a greater tennis player than Johnston. And it isn't at all certain that the Comet's wonderful smashing game would have passed Johnston as it did others.

Johnston is a small chap and his physique isn't strong, but he always is able to go through a tournament with something in reserve for the finals. He plays a strong game at all times. He isn't master of all strokes, but his placement shots are wonderful and he can volley at the net with the best of them. Tilden probably has at his command a greater variety of strokes than the champion, but he hasn't the ability to control his game as has Johnston.

THE Mirage of Lower Prices

Many retail lumber dealers have followed the MIRAGE OF LOWER PRICES off into the desert of depleted stocks and have allowed their trade to drop away. Many dealers have actually advised their customers not to build, but to wait for lower prices. This is the HEIGHT OF BUSINESS FOLLY. It is poor business for the lumber dealer and bad for his community. Money is a liquid and unstable thing. THE TIME FOR ANY MAN TO BUILD IS WHEN HE HAS THE MONEY. Ninety-five percent of the money made in our community will be spent at once. If it is not spent for HOUSES and BARNs, it go for AUTOMOBILES. If it is not spent for CRIBS and GRANARIES, it will resolve itself into TRIPS TO PLEASURE RESORTS. If it is not spent for FENCES and SHEDS, it will be invested in imaginary oil wells or fictitious GOLD MINES. IT WILL BE SPENT. Let that sink into your mind and decide whether our community will be PERMANENTLY BETTER OFF if it is spent for permanent improvements or for EVANESCENT PLEASURES.

WE KNOW A LUMBERMAN, an intelligent retailer, too, who is an officer and a director in a bank. The directors wished to build a bank building this year, but he counseled them to wait for lower prices which were due to come some time in the future. WHEN THE LOWER PRICES COME NO BUILDINGS WILL BE BUILT. Let this thought ramble through your brain—when prices are low people do not build. Low prices and poor business walk hand in hand in all lines. When lumber prices are low, other prices are low and people will not have the money with which to take advantage of conditions. In looking over our records, we find that the periods of low prices, were inactive periods in our business. IT IS TO THE INTEREST OF THE COMMUNITY TO ENCOURAGE BUSINESS NOW—NOT NEXT YEAR—AND GET THE MONEY PERMANENTLY INVESTED IN TAXABLE IMPROVEMENTS.

AND JUST A WORD TO PRESENT PRICES. Many think that lumber prices are too high. This is a common fallacy. Lumber prices are lower today than they should be. They are lower than they are going to be a little later. At present prices the manufacturer cannot make a reasonable profit. No industry can flourish unless all branches are making a reasonable profit. The manufacturer—the wholesaler—the retailer—all must be allowed to live if any one of the three is to prosper. Each has his definite duty and his place in the business. THE MIRAGE OF PE-WAR PRICES WILL LEAD YOU ASTRAY IF YOU FOLLOW IT. It is an illusion—it is the reflection of something that used to be but is no more and will not be again.

People who wish for a return to the old price level are unconsciously wishing for demoralization—hard times—slack business—and trouble.

We are telling you that lumber prices are not too high—that now is the time to build—while you have the money and before you spend it for something that does not add to the value of your estate. IF YOU THINK LUMBER PRICES ARE TOO HIGH, just set out a crop of trees and wait for the harvest. Lumber is one of the few crops that is being sold at FAR LESS THAN THE COST OF REPLACEMENT. You may figure what it costs to grow a bushel of wheat, but sit down with your pencil and estimate what it costs to grow and manufacture a thousand feet of lumber. LUMBER IS THE CHEAPEST THING IN THE WORLD TODAY.

Our business for the last year has been conducted along the principles set out above. We have relied on the sound business judgment of Rush County to BUILD WHILE THEY HAVE THE MONEY. Hence we have full stocks and are prepared to furnish large or small bills without delay or substitution. Temporary shortages have been experienced by all dealers due to transportation, but we have overcome this at last and have a stock ample for the requirements of our trade.

The freight advance, effective Aug. 25th, will advance all lumber shipped after that date $3.50 per thousand.

BUILD NOW—WHILE THE PRICE IS RIGHT—WHILE YOU HAVE THE MONEY

SOCIETY

The regular meeting of the Tarry-A-While club was not held yesterday as stated in yesterday's issue, but was postponed on account of the funeral services of Richard Pugh, which were held yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. John Kemple entertained at her home west of the city, Thursday with a noon-day dinner party. The guests were Mrs. Della Miller, Mrs. Lotti Stark, Mrs. Emma Laird, Mrs. Katherine Hodge, Mrs. Mollie Dearing, Mrs. Vivian Miller and Mrs. Hattie Kemple. The day was spent with an informal social party.

The Young Men's Circle and the Loyal Daughters class of the Main Street Christian Sunday school enjoyed a social evening last night in the basement of the church. Thirty-five members of both classes were present and the evening was spent in games, contests and social conversation. At the close of the party delicious refreshments consisting of watermelons, were served.

The Ben Davis Missionary society met in the church parlors Wednesday afternoon. A very interesting program was given under the leadership of Mrs. Clara Russell. During the business hour three new members were added to the society and a Mission Band organized. The following officers were elected for the year: Mrs. Effie Haskett, superintendent; Miss Delphine Rees, assistant superintendent; president, Miss Helen Hinchman; vice-president, Miss Neoma Nash; secretary, Miss Frances Morris; treasurer, Miss Wilma Hunt. There are fourteen charter members. After the business session light refreshments were served during the social hour.

Miss Leona Hinchman and Mrs. May May were gracious hostesses for a prettily appointed dinner party yesterday at their home in North Main street, when they had as their honored guests, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Woolen and daughter, Mrs. Hyde and Miss Helen Hyde of Indianapolis. Mr. Woolen, who is past 82 years of age, and one of the widely known bird men and nature students of this state, visited Mrs. May yesterday in order to see her birds and beautiful trees. Mr. Woolen is a great student of nature and is now preparing a book on bird migration from America to Alaska. In spite of his advanced age, he is still actively engaged in his law business and is the father of Evans Woolen, former fuel administrator for Indiana.

EXPECT SUNDAY TO EQUAL RECORD

Mr. Watkins will arrive in the morning and will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wyatt during his stay in Rushville. He will speak in the afternoon on the subject, "The Faith of Our Fathers," and in the evening on "The Lordship of Jesus Christ."

The Hadley Concert company, composed of seven musicians, will be here Sunday and Monday. This is the only musical organization which will remain at the chautauqua more than one day. The Hadley company comes recommended as one which is so versatile and has such a wide variety that it can give four programs without any repetitions.

Professor George D. Wham of the Southern State Illinois State Normal university, Carbondale, Ill., one of the lectures at the county teacher's institute, will speak at the chautauqua Monday afternoon at three o'clock. Prof. Wham was here last year and his lectures before the teachers were a source of much information and inspiration for their work.

The other lecturer for the teachers institute which will be held in the mornings during the week in the court house assembly room, will be E. J. Llewellyn, superintendent of the Newcastle schools, who will also act as platform manager again this year. He served in the capacity of platform director and institute lecturer last year.

The Flapper— Consider Her

By "MARJORIE"

New York, Aug. 7.—Consider the flapper. Her clothes must be dapper and just in the vogue like her Ma's. Her dress must be slinky—if not, 'twill be dinky, and kid gloves must cover her paws. Her gown must be satin; it's fit must not fatten. If figured with roses, 'tis well. A chalice or wooded, a serge ('twill take bullion), will make her a damsel most swell. Sateen with a "figger" is also a winner. We've seen 'em all covered with fruit. Some merchants choose poses—blue "violets" or roses, and call the ensemble quite cute.

Leather belts are tres nifty, and if they get shifty you sew 'em down with some yarn. Even flowers made of leather resembling a tether make the source of her fashion the barn. The lids for the flappers don't come with soap wrappers. A bricklayer's wages might do. They make 'em of pleatings and even take sheetings. If they're nobby any old thing will do. Most of them have long tails to tickle the gales, and black is considered quite smart. If you see that her shoe is chesnut in hue, your daughter of fashion's a part. How much will it rock you? Don't let "free verse" shock you! They tell me three hundred will do it.

So if you have many 'tis many a penny you'll spend in the shops while you rue it. And if you believe in forswearing reprieve until the finale is written, there are trinkets galore on Gotham's wide shore for the man who with flapper is smitten. There are lip sticks and cases to fit any faces, canes and umbrellas and bags. There are undies and sundries from Orient countries, to peek at your jeans and then grab.

The Eggs May Have Been Fresh But the Story—!!!

(Connersville News-Examiner)
A Rushville Mrs. Newlywed who was reared in a large city went to the grocery store to do her morning marketing. And she was determined that the grocer should not take advantage of her youth and inexperience.

"These eggs are dreadfully small", she criticized.

"I know it, he answered, "But that's the kind the farmer brings me. They are just fresh from the country this morning."

"Yes" said the bride, "and that's the trouble with those farmers. They are so anxious to get their eggs sold that they take them off the nest too soon."

FRANCIS MOORMAN BETTER

Amputation of Arm Due to Blood Poisoning May be Unnecessary

Francis Moorman, son of Charles Moorman of this city, is in a hospital at Dayton, suffering with blood poisoning, and Bert Moorman, his brother, of this city, was called there yesterday when it appeared as if it would be necessary to amputate his arm. A message received last night stated that he showed slight improvement, and a consultation was to be held today by other physicians. Moorman is a tool maker, and it is believed that a piece of metal caused the poison. His family here was notified only recently of the alarming condition that he was in.

CHARLES GUILD DIES TODAY

News of Demise of Former Rushville Man is Received

Mrs. Alva E. Newhouse received word this morning of the death of her brother-in-law, Charles Guild, who expired this morning about 6:30 o'clock of heart trouble, at his home 1720 Broadway, Indianapolis. Mr. Guild has many friends and relatives living in this city, having formerly lived here prior to his residence in Indianapolis. His widow is the only survivor. No funeral arrangements had been made when the message was received this morning.

WOMEN SHOW AN ACTIVE INTEREST

their active participation in politics down to the precincts.

The district chairman pointed out the very grave necessity of completing the poll of republicans by September 4, when the first registration takes place in Indiana, so that it will be possible to check up and get all republicans registered at the second registration October 4.

Mrs. Martindale told what had been accomplished by the women republicans of Marion county in the way of organization and Senator Watson also dwelt on the necessity of intensive organization, but spoke more on the larger aspects of the political campaign.

Senator Watson had to leave at three o'clock for the east but said that he would probably be back here early next week for a few days of the chautauqua. Beginning the middle of the week, however, he has practically every day taken until November 4 with speaking engagements.

Richard N. Elliott of Connersville, candidate for re-election to congress from this district, failed to arrive for the meeting. State Organizer McClasin telephoned from Greenfield at one o'clock that he would arrive late in the afternoon but Fon Riggs, the county chairman, told him that he need not come because he probably could not reach Rushville before the meeting adjourned.

The women workers present, numbering between thirty and forty, listened attentively while organization speakers attempted to impress upon them the necessity of obtaining a complete and correct poll in order to get every voter registered, because unless the voters are registered, they can not cast a ballot at the election.

The district chairman explained the Indiana plan of organization, which calls for the appointment of ten helpers for each precinct committeeman, and also outlined the new plan for financing the campaign in nation, state and county. This new financing scheme contemplates a complete organization in each precinct.

QUESTIONNAIRE BRINGS MONEY FOR VACATION

In a certain Lake Division town, there's a mother of a former soldier who has nearly $100 extra to spend for herself this summer.

The Red Cross Home Service section in that community sent questionnaires to all ex-service men, asking them if all their war-time affairs had been satisfactorily settled.

The particular soldier in question was discharged soon after the Armistice and had never learned that some travel pay was due him. After he had read over the questionnaire he decided to look up the Home Service secretary an find out about some of the things noted among the queries.

As a result he just received a check for $96.48 that he didn't know was due him until the Red Cross questionnaire came. He gave the money to his mother for a vacation. This is a typical example of the service given by the Red Cross.

FOUR MEN HELD ON $1,000 BOND

Sheriff Jones stated today that all four of them had practically admitted their guilt and it is not expected that a trial will be necessary. Judge W. M. Sparks was expected home this afternoon from Winona Lake, when more definite information may be available.

It is not likely, however, that in case they want an arraignment, that sentence will be passed until the September term begins, unless Judge Sparks should order a special term of court for that purpose, court now being in vacation.

Sheriff Jones stated that the robbery of the clothing store here was planned more than a year ago, when someone "tipped" off the place to one of the men. They delayed the robbery, according to one of the men in jail here, because they were afraid to undertake it. Edward Beemer asserted that he didn't recall who it was that told them about the Rushville store, nor was he able to give the officials a description of the man. He said that he knew one or two Rushville men.

According to the story they told the sheriff, they came into Rushville on the night of the robbery, shortly after midnight, riding in a large touring car which belonged to one of the Beemer brothers. Both of them claim that they own large touring cars.

They asserted that the pedestal lights in the business district were extinguished about 2:30, and in the darkness of the city they waited for about thirty minutes, and then made their way to the rear of the store, where a window with bars, was pried open and an entrance gained to the store.

According to the sheriff, Shepherd, who is the largest of the four men, waited on guard on the outside of the store, and the other three entered the store, each one having a certain part to steal, one taking suits, the other neckware and hats. Several hurried trips were made through the store, and only twenty minutes was required to ransack the building.

Sheriff Jones stated that Beemer told him the money bag was grabbed and the $400 worth of checks were burned, and the cash divided equally among the four, each receiving about $3.00.

One of the Beemer brothers also asserted that he lost his cap in the store, but could not remember when he did it, and did not miss it until they were on their way to Muncie.

Much of the stolen goods was recovered, and only a small quantity had been sold. Estel Williams of Winchester having purchased a green cap for $2.50, buying it from James Martin of Winchester, one of the men in jail here.

Martin was arrested in Winchester and placed in jail, and his residence was searched. Silk shirts and other articles were found there, and when confronted with the evidence at the jail, he admitted his guilt and told about the robbery implicating the Muncie men, who were also arrested.

HOMER AT ARLINGTON

The Homer baseball team will play at Arlington tomorrow when it is said that Homer is going to Arlington with the expectation of winning, having loaded up for the game. A few weeks ago Homer was defeated at Arlington by a one sided score. A large crowd is expected to be on hand to see the game, and the manager of the Arlington team issued a warning today, stating that teams in this section claiming championship titles, had better take notice.

Amusements

Dorothy Gish at the Princess

A domestic tempest in a teapot forms the plot of Dorothy Gish's new screen farce: "Remodeling Her Husband," coming to the Princess Theater today. The "Little Disturber" has the role of a young bride, recently married to a youth who bears the reputation of being a flirt. His weakness for a pretty face gets him into repeated difficulties, until finally Mrs. Newlywed leaves him tearfully and proceeds to become a power in the 'business' world. But later she decides that hubby is worth while reforming and makes sure by a most novel means of his never back-sliding again.

Miss Gish's role is of the same vivacious type with which she has been identified in the past. "Remodeling Her Husband," is frankly for entertainment purposes only. The leading man is James Rennie, a popular stage player and a new recruit to the screen.

"The Third Generation"—Mystic

"The Third Generation" which was written and produced by Henry Kolker at the Theatre Monday. An all star cast will appear.

The story concerns Alden Van Dusen, the grandson of old Henry Van Dusen who founded the family before the time of the Civil War. Although inspired with the ideals of his grandfather, who has adopted the motto: "Integrity in business. Fidelity to family," young Van Dusen finds that his wife, the daughter of another old New York family insists on a great deal of social activity.

Thorough her inspirations he is led to neglect the business in which he is associated with Col. Alden, an old friend of the family, and Cuthbert Steel, a very hard-headed business man. Steele one day summons the two social lions of the firm and tells them that disaster is just ahead unless they consent to make over the best property of Van Dusen, Alden and Steele to a fourth and imaginary person, so as to save it from the inevitable smash.

This does not appeal to Van Dusen. As he refuses, Steele in an ugly mood then suggests that one of the three die, and allow the other two to collect the $250,000 in insurance which will go to the others in case any of the three dies. Van Dusen, much depressed and discouraged, herein sees a way to save his family, and late that night, starts walking toward the East River.

SCOUTS WANT A BOY CENSUS

At the recent annual meeting of the National Council of the Boy Scouts of America, Vice President Mortimer L. Schiff in offering a resolution calling attention to the need of a more complete census of the youth of the nation, said that this was "a resolution having to do with what probably everybody connected with boy scout work has run up against, the lack of data about the youth in this country. As has been stated, we know the number of hogs, but we don't know the number of boys."

The resolution declares that it is of the utmost importance that there should be available for use of the scouts and other organizations interested in the welfare of the youth of the nation, all possible data relating to this subject, and states that investigation has proved that practically no uniform data of this sort is available as a basis for a thorough study of the situation, and further development of their respective programs for the service of the youth.

It was therefore resolved to request that the federal government and the various states of the United States shall at their earliest convenience, through their various appropriate departments, collate and make available for the scouts' use and that of other organizations such data as will provide intelligent, efficient and economic promotion of the program tending to the making of good citizenship; and that the United States bureau of education, census bureau and department of child welfare be especially urged to collate such data as is absolutely necessary for a thorough investigation of the problems involved.

Here's a Little Suggestion for the Man Who Doesn't Need to Build

It is remarkable how a little lumber, a little paint and a good workman or two can make over a plain old fashioned, out-of-style house into a neat, attractive home. One man spent a few hundred dollars and the very day the simple improvements were completed he was offered $1,400 more for the property than he had ever been offered before.

The improvements he had made were better than a 100 per cent investment.

But it isn't altogether the money investment that ought to be considered. Maybe mother and the girls are dissatisfied with the plain old house. The neighborhood has been beautifying and your folks, too, may long for those attractive little features that make the passerby pause and say: "Now there's a neat little home."

Come in and see us. We have some interesting suggestions for economical remodeling. And we can supply the materials!

SAYS REPUBLICANS PLAN ARMAMENT

Senator Robinson in Delivering Notification Speech Plays All Angles of Republican Platform

SCOFFS "FRONT PORCH" IDEA

Asserts Republican Party if Elected, Would Cause U. S. to be Always Prepared for Conflicts

(By United Press.)
Dayton, Ohio, Aug. 7.—If the Republicans win control of the government, the United States thenceforth "always" must be prepared for conflict on land and sea, declared Senator Robinson, of Arkansas today in his speech formally notifying Gov. Cox of his nomination for the presidency by the Democratic party.

Republican success, Robinson asserted, means that the U. S. "must be willing to pour billions into the treasuries of munitions makers. She must arm and train her sons in preparation for fiercer conflicts than the world has ever known. We must either enter this league to which our friends belong, or abandon for an indefinite period all hope of substituting argument for armament."

Robinson assailed Senator Harding's position on the treaty and the league. The Republican platform on the subject, he said, "is beyond the power of the human mind to analyze or understand. The Republican nominee has declared for the defeat of the treaty and the rejection of the league. He has made clear that it is no longer a controversy about reservations. It is proposed to restore peace by act of congress instead of by treaty and to leave unsettled all the vexed, and difficult questions, growing out of the war. It is proposed to place Germany on an equal footing with our government in the negotiation of the treaty to leave here at liberty to reject our just demands and to attempt to impose upon us unreasonable obligations."

The Republican plan, if carried out, Robinson said, would constitute a surrender to Germany of all the advantages of victory. The idea of forming some other sort of international association for peaceful settlement of disputes is not feasible, Robinson said because virtually all the nations of importance now are in the league and would not withdraw to enter some other sort of organization. He declared that assaults on President Wilson and a continuation of the "Nagging process carried on for a year and a half in the senate" are to be made "the chief manifestations by the Republican nominees of their fitness for office."

Robinson said Cox was chosen without inducement or coercion from political bosses and that "neither midnight combinations nor plutocratic cabals were instrumental" in making him the party's choice.

"The honor and responsibility attending his responsibility came to you" said Robinson, "because your position respecting campaign issues is known to be in harmony with the platform adopted and because the record of your public service demonstrates rare leadership."

He scoffed at Harding's plan for a "front porch campaign" and said: "It is not expected that you will conduct a front porch campaign. It is not believed that you will wait for American people to come to you to hear your message, but that you will cheerfully carry it to them, confident of their approval of the cause you represent."

Robinson declared that "no mere speech maker, however, pleasing in personality, can meet the test which the public will require of the next president. No reactionary, no man who faces backward or who follows a leadership blind to the great problem of the new era can successfully discharge the duties of president during the period of reconstruction. The country calls for an experienced and progressive minded leader."

Assailing the Republican platform Robinson said that it "was deliberately made ambiguous in order to conceal irreconcilable difference of opinion," among Republicans. The democratic platform, on the other hand, he said is a clear definition of the party's stand on vital Democratic and foreign problems.

Robinson paid tribute to Cox's record as governor of Ohio, enumerating progressive laws enacted during his administration as evidence of its fitness for national leadership. Cox's position on woman suffrage, child welfare, labor questions, the budget system and other issues squares exactly with the declarations of the Democratic platform on them, Robinson said.

INTERMARRIAGES ARE TROUBLESOME

London White Girls Are Becoming Infatuated With Chinamen and Black Men Which is a Problem

CHEAP NOVEL IS THE CAUSE.

London (By Mail)—London magistrates are perplexed over the problem of young girls infatuated with the yellow and black men who have their residence around Limehouse.

Miss Lee, a property owner and the guide, philosopher and friend of her Chinese tenants, says that in her experience the Chinamen, while they certainly do regard the wife as a chattel, are not cruel to her and quite a number of them are exceedingly chivalrous. "The men", she said, "do not go out of this district to look for the women. The women come here."

A woman missionary, after conversing with some of the young and pretty girls who have taken up permanent residence in Limehouse, says that in her opinion most of them go among the colored men in search of adventure, after reading sensational literature or seeing Chinese films. A few of these girls are of an educated and refined type, and many of them uncommonly pretty.

"There are many white wives in Chinatown", she said. "Heaps more today than in times past. One girl brings another. They are attracted by the strangeness and unfamiliar quality of the Oriental. The Chinese give no trouble, but the black men do. They have no such ideas of chivalry as the Chinamen have."

Recently at the Thames Police Court, Magistrate Cairns, said that extraordinary infatuation was the greatest problem he had to deal with.

COST 6 MILLION TO GRADUATE 7 PUPILS

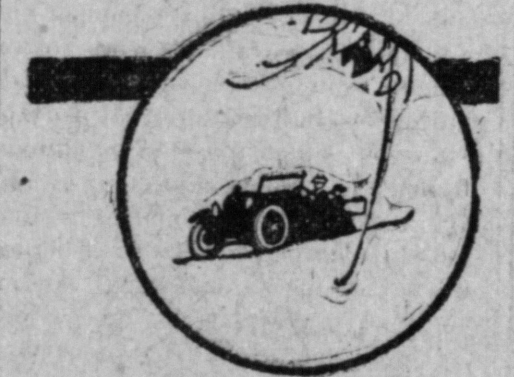

First Graduates From Shanghai Medical College Proved Expensive and Project is Dropped

A ROCKEFELLER INSTITUTION

(By United Press.)
Shanghai, (By Mail)—After spending a little less than $1,000,000 a pupil in order to graduate the first class of medical students, to take a course at the Union Medical College, the Rockefeller foundation which sponsored the project has announced that a program for the expenditure of millions on a similar project in Shanghai had been abandoned. As a result of the announcement St. John's University, an Episcopal institution, has made public plans for a vast extension of its medical college here.

When the Rockefeller millions were poured into China about five years ago the other schools stepped aside and "marked time," their object being to allow the wealthy American a clear field in the development of the medical profession in the Far East.

Six million dollars were spent in the Peking venture, in construction costs and maintenance, and seven pupils were graduated.

WHEN we say it is our belief that the Hupmobile is the best car of its class in the world, we are simply voicing the opinions of those who know it best—its owners.

COMMUNITY PICNIC TO BE HELD IN CITY PARK FRIDAY SEPT. 17

Date is Set and Preliminary Arrangements Are Made at Meeting Friday Night

FARMERS TO PROVIDE FOOD

Tickets Will be Issued to Business Men and Others For Dinners On That Day

ENTERTAINMENT IS PLANNED

Rush County Farmers Association Will Have Co-operation of Merchants

With committees appointed and plans made but not completed, the aim of the business men of Rushville and the Rush County Farmers association is to make Friday, September 17, when the community picnic will be held, one of the biggest days in the history of Rush county.

At a meeting of business men and officers of the farmers association Friday night, the date was set, the city park was selected as the place and tentative arrangements were made, when the farmers of the county will play host to the citizens of Rushville and attempt to "go them one better."

The "ice was broken" and the first step was taken in the direction of a better community spirit which would bring the county together as a unit, when the business men of Rushville entertained the farmers at Farmers Day last March. A county dinner party was given, at which farmers and their families were guests, a corn show was held and entertainment was provided for the women and men.

After that event, which received the commendation of the farmers, it was suggested by the farmers themselves that their association hold a big picnic for the people of Rushville after the harvest. The association has been working all summer with that aim in view and the officers of the organization are a unit in desiring to make it a big success.

They called the business men in last night for their advice in regard to details and for their assistance in making arrangements. Business men were placed on a number of the committees to co-operate with the farmers.

Tickets will be issued for the dinners, which will in all probability be served in cafeteria style, and the farmers and their wives will provide the fried chicken and everything. It was suggested, in fixing the date, last night that it be made about the middle of September because the "fries" would be "riper" then.

Tents will be provided so that in case of rain the event will not be spoiled, and whatever program is arranged can be conducted in the coliseum. An effort will be made to get a speaker of note to discuss community topics and subjects of interest to farmers. Entertainment features will also be arranged.

A resolution was adopted last night, calling on all business men of Rushville to close their places of business between the hours of ten and four the day of the picnic.

The following committees which were appointed, are expected to do something between now and September 1 when their chairmen will be called together for reports on the progress made:

Tents—Clen Miller, Ray Compton, Clarence Carr and Everett Burton.
Entertainment—Walter F. Easley, Frank Abercrombie, Roy E. Harold and the township chairmen of the farmers association: M. F. Lovett, Ripley, Gurnie Swain, Posey, J. M. Wissing, Walker, George W. Hardesty, Orange, Charles McBride, Center, Elmer E. Porter Jackson, Will Brown, Rushville; W. B. Crane, Anderson; Fred Lightfoot, Washington; Jesse Peters, Union; Walker Norris, Noble; Harold L. Beall, Richmond.

Tables and seats—Jack Knecht.

Pie and Watermelon Served To Soldiers By Industrial Club

The detachment of thirty soldiers who have been camping in the city park for the past few days, were honored last evening by the Industrial club when the ladies presented them with warm pies and watermelons for their suppers. Also other ladies not members of the club, in the vicinity of the park, gave the service men pies. The soldiers have been shown unusual courtesies during their stay in this city, which they greatly appreciated. The outfit leaves early in the morning for Lake McCoy, southeast of Greensburg, where they will give a stunt program tomorrow afternoon at the invitation of the manager of the park.

MARTIAL LAW IN FORCE IN DENVER

Resumption of Street Car Strike Riots Friday Night Makes Drastic Action Imperative.

TROOPS, CIVILIANS ON DUTY.

Dispatch Direct From West Frankfort, Ill., Where Mob Rules, Reports Only One Death

(By United Press.)

Denver, Colorado, Aug. 7.—Martial law was proclaimed in Denver today as the result of the street car strike riots which were resumed again last night.

In addition to one thousand civilian volunteers and policemen the city was being patrolled by 150 federal troops.

Five hundred soldier troops were enroute from Camp Funston, Kas. After two nights of rioting in which five men were killed and more than fifty injured, including two women bystanders, the city was rather quiet today.

West Frankfort, Ill., Aug. 7.—An Italian was found dead here this afternoon with his head smashed in with an ax. This is the first death so far in the rioting which has sporadically gripped the town during the past three days.

At the time the man was killed more than 500 military men were patrolling the streets.

Rumors have been in circulation all morning regarding others killed. Every attempt to verify them failed.

The mob composed of coal miners who have been on strike for some time, is believed to have killed the two boys, Tony Hempfl and Amel Calcaterra, who were found dead in a wood yesterday.

Blackhand murder rumors and rumors of an Italian gang of bank robbers were circulated freely. The leader of the mob is believed to have been an owner of a pool room. His place of business was visited by the mob and ransacked.

The attention of the mob was turned to a Cicilian Club house home on the outskirts of the town. The house was completely destroyed and several other houses were burned.

DRIVE ON WARSAW CHECKED

(By United Press.)

Slowing up of the Bolshevik drive against Warsaw relieved the tension in Europe today and gave France and Great Britain a "breathing spell" before finally deciding what action, if any, to take to help the Poles.

Dispatches from European capitals today indicated the Bolsheviks had not made any recent big gains toward Warsaw, although they are pushing toward Lemberg.

FREIGHT CARS DERAILED

Accident at Liberty Delays Traffic on C. I. & W. This Morning

Three freight cars derailed in Liberty this morning on the C. I. & W. railroad, caused the eastbound passenger train, due here at 8:35, to be detoured to Cincinnati by the way of the Big Four railroad from this city. Train number 40, westbound passenger for Chicago, due here at 10:48, was detoured from Cincinnati to Indianapolis over the Pennsylvania by the way of Richmond and the train from Cincinnati to Indianapolis was annulled. The cars were put back on the track by noon today, and regular traffic was resumed.

FOUR MEN HELD ON $1,000 BOND

Quartet Accused of Clothing Store Robbery Tell Sheriff it Was Planned Year Ago

PLACE WAS "TIPPED OFF"

Alleged Burglars Waited Until The Lights Were Extinguished—Ransacked Store in 20 Minutes

Jason Reese, of near Muncie, brother-in-law of Fred and Ed Beemer, came this afternoon for the purpose of providing a cash bond for their appearance and he awaited the arrival of Judge Sparks, who was expected to be here by four o'clock. In all probability the bond for each one will be placed at $1,000, but it is necessary for the court to establish a bond, before the men can be released.

Russell Shepherd, Fred Beemer, James Martin and Edward Beemer, the four men who were arrested night before last in Muncie, charged with store breaking in connection with the robbery of the Knecht Clothing store in this city on July 21, were brought here late yesterday afternoon and placed in jail where they will probably remain until the September term of court, unless they can provide the $1,000 bond under which they will probably be placed.

The four men were brought here on the Big Four passenger train arriving at four o'clock yesterday afternoon, in charge of Sheriff Jones and A. C. Stevens, prosecuting attorney, who made the trip to Muncie.

HITS POLE IN ORDER TO AVOID COLLISION

Serious Accident Narrowly Avoided When Readle Casady Drives Car on Lawn

RAIN OBSCURED HIS VIEW

A serious accident was narrowly averted yesterday afternoon during the storm, when an automobile owned by E. R. Casady and driven by his son, Readle, went onto the lawn at the corner of First and Harrison streets, in order to keep from striking another machine, and before the machine could be stopped it had crashed into a telephone pole, breaking off the front right wheel.

Casady was going west on First street, and another machine driven by John K. Tompkins was coming south on Harrison, and because of the heavy downpour, the two machines almost collided, but Casady swung his machine onto the lawn, scraping a tree and lodging into the pole.

Besides the front wheel being broken off, the running board on that side was demolished and the fenders broken beyond repair. Both machines were fairly given passenger seats, and had they come together a serious accident would probably have resulted.

SEVERAL PROPERTIES SOLD

Number of Rushville Homes Change Hands in Last 10 Days

Several pieces of Rushville property have changed hands within the last ten days, the sales being made by Mrs. Lila Metherford. The considerations were not made public, and the properties involved are as follows:

Charles M. Norris property in East Tenth street to Ben Gardner; Miss Anna Geraghty's property in North Sexton street to George Heck; William Barlow's property in East Eleventh to Miss Clara Martin; Miss Alice Norris' property in North Sexton street to William Barlow, and the Albert Flechart property in West Fifth street to Charles A. Manzy.

WOMEN SHOW AN ACTIVE INTEREST

WATSON AND BOSSERT TALK

Value of Complete Poll to Check up on Voters Registration Day is Emphasized

All doubt about Rush county women taking an interest in politics was removed today by the attendance and the interest shown at the meeting of the republican workers of the county, which was held in the court house assembly room.

The men and women precinct committeemen and other workers were entertained at dinner at the Scanlan hotel at noon and the afternoon was devoted to a set program at which Walter F. Bossert of Liberty, district chairman, presided.

Other speakers this afternoon were Mrs. Clarence Martindale, of Indianapolis, women's chairman of Marion county, and Senator James E. Watson. Before all of the guests of the county central committee, which played host at dinner, were assembled this afternoon, Mrs. Elizabeth Claypool Earl of Connersville, women's district chairman, made a short informal speech to the women on the importance of

REVIEWERS CALLED IN SESSION MONDAY

Board Will Decide Whether Law Contemplates Individual Assessments May be Revised

MANY DOUBT THAT IT DOES

The county board of review, which was called today by County Auditor McMillin to convene Monday, will likely decide at its initial meeting whether the Tuthill-Kiper tax law, which provides for the special session of the board, contemplated that the board should take up individual complaints in regard to assessments.

The opinion seems to prevail among men who have studied the law, as well as among the farmers of the county, that it was intended for the county reviewers to consider the taxing units as a whole. It is pointed out by tax authorities that if the cases of individuals were open to revision, endless confusion would result.

It was pointed out today that taxpayers had an opportunity during the tax assessment season last spring to get response. Approximately fifty taxpayers in this county filed out appeals to the state board, alleging their assessments were too high. Every appeal was granted as asked.

Taxing officials pointed out today that the increase of two million dollars in the personal property in this county the year over and over the state board approved was a reflection on the accuracy of the

ACCEPTANCE SPEECH INDICATES PEACE TREATY AS MAIN ISSUE

Cox Leaves Out Insert In Speech And Interest Lags

Dayton, Ohio, Aug. 7.—Governor Cox surprised newspaper men this morning by telephoning from Trail End, that there would be no insert in his speech of acceptance.

It had been the intention to make an important insert at the last minute and interest in the matter was keen.

He offered no explanation as to why he had abandoned the idea, nor did he hint anything about the character of the important insert.

Shortly after ten o'clock, in fulfillment with the weatherman's forecast, a series of light showers began, continuing throughout the morning.

7:30 p. m. Grand Concert—Hadley Concert Company.

The weather permitting, Rush county chautauqua officials are expecting one of the largest opening day crowds in the history of the chautauqua, when the sixteenth annual session gets under way Sunday afternoon.

The interest manifested this year is the best since the chautauqua has become a fixed institution in Rushville. Never before were the guarantors' season tickets all sold so quickly and never before were so many $2 season tickets sold before the opening day.

This in itself is evidence enough of the way the program has been received by the people of the county and also shows the popularity of the talent which has been selected. Persons who have followed the chautauqua closely in Rushville agree that the music this year as a whole is far above the average. Likewise, many celebrated people have been engaged for addresses.

No single lecturer is expected to make a wider or more effective appeal than will Charles E. Watkins of Mexico, who speaks tomorrow at 3 and 8:15 a. m. As social welfare worker for the General Motors Company he has come in contact with all phases of human activity and knows human nature. His messages are practical in tone for the many farmers and all people are interested in what they generally say to the people and will be glad if their chautauqua were more successful.

Gov. Cox, Democratic Presidential Nominee, Denounces Senator Harding's Policies

SPEECH IS FULL OF SARCASTIC

Says Harding's Peace Policy Means That a Separate Peace With Germany Will be Result

LEAGUE ISSUE WAS BIG THEME

Asserts That First Duty Will be to Ratify The Peace Treaty Without Past Recollections

By HERBERT W. WALKER

Dayton, O., August 7.—Governor James M. Cox today formally accepted the Democratic nomination for the presidency and sharply acknowledged the peace treaty as the leading issue of the forthcoming political war.

In a speech bristling with attacks direct and sarcastic, he denounced Senator Harding's proposals for effecting peace as "disheartening," "unworthy," "bungling diplomacy," and "unadulterated dishonesty."

The Harding promise for a "formal and effective peace so quickly" as a Republican Congress can pass its declaration for a Republican executive to sign, Cox declared "means but one thing—a separate peace with Germany."

Such a course the Democratic nominee viewed with abhorrence, seeing in it a withdrawal of good faith pledged to the allies "for the enforcement of terms upon offensive powers." On the issue of League or no League Cox took an unequivocal position.

"Senator Harding," he said, "as the Republican candidate for the presidency proposes in plain words that we remain out of it. As the Democratic candidate I favor going in."

But, while declaring "the first duty of the new administration clearly will be the ratification of the treaty," Cox cautioned, "the matter should be approached without thought of the bitterness of the past." And admitting that the claim that interpretations are unnecessary might be true, Cox, nevertheless, took the position that a basis for agreement must be reached and that interpretations would be "assuring to many of our citizens who feel that in signing the treaty there should be no mental reservations not expressed in plain words."

As interpretations in the League covenant, Cox again suggested, "the two reservations which he outlined to the United Press shortly after his nomination: These provide for a declaration that the United States serves notice it must at all times be in strict harmony with the terms and intent of its constitution which cannot in any way be altered by the treaty-making power" and that the fundamental purpose of the league is the prevention of war.

He showed plainly that his position would be with those desiring to get the treaty ratified so long as the agreement for such ratification did not injure the covenant.

The greatest thought in the governor's speech obviously was devoted to his treatment of the league issue. There was no mention in an address of the prohibition question. The only statement that might be construed as a reference to the subject being his declaration that "the public officials who fail to enforce the law are an enemy both to the constitution and to the American principle of majority rule. It would seem quite unnecessary," he added, "for any candidate for the presidency to make a statement of his position on the prohibition question."

The speech of Senator Harding, son of a pioneer at Dayton, O., was a masterpiece of political strategy. He made no mention of the League of Nations, but he made it plain that he was for a peace treaty with Germany. He made it plain that he was for a peace treaty with Germany. He made it plain that he was for a peace treaty with Germany.

FAREWELL MEETING ON SUNDAY NIGHT

Captain and Mrs. J. A. Tench Will Leave the First of Next Week
For East Chicago

THEIR RECORD IN RUSHVILLE

The farewell meeting of Captain and Mrs. J. A. Tench who have been in charge of the local work of the Salvation Army for the past fifteen months, will be held at the Salvation Army Citadel tomorrow night, starting at 7 o'clock.

Since the present officers took charge, there have been over 200 at the altar. A large number of these who were at the altar were there for Salvation, according to Captain Tench.

A small band has been started and a Girl's Life Saving Guards, known as the Commander's Own Life Saving Guards have been organized. The attendance has been more than doubled and eighteen young people have been sworn in as Junior soldiers and about the same number of senior soldiers have been enrolled.

LEWIS SAID HE DID NOT OPPOSE THE BILL

Township Trustee Admits, However,
He Tried to Have Salary Law
Amended in Legislature

WANTED IT EFFECTIVE LATER

Lew Lewis, Walker township trustee, who, in the capacity of the chairman of legislative committee of the State Township Trustees association, acted as a lobbyist in the special session of the legislature, declared today that he was not opposed to the teacher's salary law which was passed, but that he did try to get it amended.

Lewis says that he voiced the sentiment of the trustees in trying to have the bill changed to take effect Jan. 1, 1921, instead of this fall, so as not to interfere with teachers' contracts for this year, which were made on the basis of the amount of revenue to be raised. The attorney-general has ruled the law will not affect next year's contracts.

He declared that the increases the bill gives many teachers will make many township's school expenses more than the taxes they will receive. The Walker township trustee also stated the law was unfair because it did not classify teachers according to experience but places the new teacher on the same plane as the inexperienced one.

He suggested in place of the present graduated excess profits tax a levy of from one to one-half per cent on the "total business of every going concern."

In advocating a budget system, Cox said that through it he could hold annual government expenses down to $40,000,000,000, including a sinking fund and interest of the war debt.

To meet high cost of living problems Cox recommended a more just proportion between "fair profits to business and fair prices to the consumer." He emphasized the necessity for greater production and to this end warned that both labor and the farmer must get a more equitable share of the former through assurance of profits equal to those in other activities. Cox supported the principle of collective bargaining but added that "we need a definite and precise statement of policy as to what business men and working men may do and may not do by way of combination and collective action."

More home building and greater Americanization work was advocated by the governor as a means of combating seditious agitation.

Despite concern among some Democratic leaders that Cox would be guided too much by the White House, there was little in the address to indicate Wilson domination. He followed the speech of notification by Senator Joseph T. Robinson, Arkansas, who was permanent chairman of the San Francisco convention. A parade of all visiting Democrats, which was reviewed by Cox, preceded the ceremonies.

Dayton is crowded with Democrats from all over the country, with large delegations from Ohio and surrounding states. Senator Harding's town of Marion was represented; many were here from Columbus and Cincinnati, but the happiest delegation seemed to be the one from his old home town of Middleton, many of whom knew "Jimmy" Cox as a boy.

The city is gaily decorated and the fair grounds buildings are a mass of flags.

Governor and Mrs. Cox will entertain the Democratic national and the notification committees with a luncheon at his beautiful country home, Trail's End.

In problems of readjustment the candidate declared "one of the first things to be done is repeal of war taxes." He criticized the last Republican Congress for "not passing a single law to lift a load of war taxation that cannot be tolerated in time of peace." He promised if elected, a reduction totaling more than $2,000,000,000 annually in federal taxes.

"Annoying consumption taxes now unjustified should be repealed," he said. Incomes from war-made fortunes, those of non-producers and those derived from industries "that exist by unfair privilege" might be taxed as now, Cox declared, but taxes on the earnings of laborers, salaried and professional men, agricultural producers and small tradesmen "should be sharply modified."

enormous labors of his office."

The nominee then took occasion to attack the Republicans for alleged failure to pay tribute to the work of the American army, navy and government in the world war.

TILDEN GREAT TENNIS PLAYER

Has at His Command a Greater Variety of Strokes Than the Champion—Hasn't Ability to Control

(By United Press.)

New York, Aug. 7.—The triumphal return of America's tennis ace from conquering Europe's best both in the Davis cup preliminaries and in the national tournament at Wimbledon is bound to have a very strong effect in stimulating tennis in the United States. Also the fact that William M. Johnston, our national champion, will be allowed to enter the challenge round in the national singles at Forest Hills is bound to attract one of the greatest crowds that ever witnessed a tennis match.

When William T. Tilden, survived the eliminations in the Wimbledon tournament while Johnston was beaten has led a great many followers of the net game to acclaim Tilden a greater tennis player than Johnston. It is extremely doubtful, however, if this is the case, although Tilden probably has improved some over his game of a year ago.

It will be recalled that Tilden defeated Johnston about a year ago at Longwood but that when the actual tennis test came that at Forest Hills in the national singles—Johnston came through with a remarkable display of court work and defeated Tilden in the final round.

Aside from Maurice McLoughlin this country never has seen a greater tennis player than Johnston. And it isn't at all certain that the Comet's wonderful smashing game would have passed Johnston as it did others.

Johnston is a small chap and his physique isn't strong, but he always is able to go through a tournament with something in reserve for the finals. He plays a strong game in all times. He isn't master of all strokes, but his placement shots are wonderful and he can volley at the net with the best of them. Tilden probably has at his command a greater variety of strokes than the champion, but he hasn't the ability to control his game as has Johnston.

THE Mirage of Lower Prices

Many retail lumber dealers have followed the MIRAGE OF LOWER PRICES off into the desert of depleted stocks and have allowed their trade to drop away. Many dealers have actually advised their customers not to build, but to wait for lower prices. This is the HEIGHT OF BUSINESS FOLLY. It is poor business for the lumber dealer and bad for his community. Money is a liquid and unstable thing. THE TIME FOR ANY MAN TO BUILD IS WHEN HE HAS THE MONEY. Ninety-five percent of the money made in our community will be spent at once. If it is not spent for HOUSES and BARNs, it go for AUTOMOBILES. If it is not spent for CRIBS and GRANARIES, it will resolve itself into TRIPS TO PLEASURE RESORTS. If it is not spent for FENCES and SHEDS, it will be invested in imaginary oil wells or fictitious GOLD MINES. IT WILL BE SPENT. Let that sink into your mind and decide whether our community will be PERMANENTLY BETTER OFF if it is spent for permanent improvements or for EVANESCENT PLEASURES.

WE KNOW A LUMBERMAN, an intelligent retailer, too, who is an officer and a director in a bank. The directors wished to build a bank building this year, but he counseled them to wait for lower prices which were due to come some time in the future. WHEN THE LOWER PRICES COME NO BUILDINGS WILL BE BUILT. Let this thought ramble through your brain—when prices are low people do not build. Low prices and poor business walk hand in hand in all lines. When lumber prices are low, other prices are low and people will not have the money with which to take advantage of conditions. In looking over our records, we find that the periods of low prices, were inactive periods in our business. IT IS TO THE INTEREST OF THE COMMUNITY TO ENCOURAGE BUSINESS NOW—NOT NEXT YEAR—AND GET THE MONEY PERMANENTLY INVESTED IN TAXABLE IMPROVEMENTS.

AND JUST A WORD TO PRESENT PRICES. Many think that lumber prices are too high. This is a common fallacy. Lumber prices are lower today than they should be. They are lower than they are going to be a little later. At present prices the manufacturer cannot make a reasonable profit. No industry can flourish unless all branches are making a reasonable profit. The manufacturer—the wholesaler—the retailer—all must be allowed to live if any one of the three is to prosper. Each has his definite duty and his place in the business. THE MIRAGE OF PE-WAR PRICES WILL LEAD YOU ASTRAY IF YOU FOLLOW IT. It is an illusion—it is the reflection of something that used to be but is no more and will not be again.

People who wish for a return to the old price level are unconsciously wishing for demoralization—hard times—slack business—and trouble.

We are telling you that lumber prices are not too high—that now is the time to build—while you have the money and before you spend it for something that does not add to the value of your estate. IF YOU THINK LUMBER PRICES ARE TOO HIGH, just set out a crop of trees and wait for the harvest. Lumber is one of the few crops that is being sold at FAR LESS THAN THE COST OF REPLACEMENT. You may figure what it costs to grow a bushel of wheat, but sit down with your pencil and estimate what it costs to grow and manufacture a thousand feet of lumber. LUMBER IS THE CHEAPEST THING IN THE WORLD TODAY.

Our business for the last year has been conducted along the principles set out above. We have relied on the sound business judgment of Rush County to BUILD WHILE THEY HAVE THE MONEY. Hence we have full stocks and are prepared to furnish large or small bills without delay or substitution. Temporary shortages have been experienced by all dealers due to transportation, but we have overcome this at last and have a stock ample for the requirements of our trade.

The freight advance, effective Aug. 25th, will advance all lumber shipped after that date. $3.50 per thousand.

BUILD NOW—WHILE THE PRICE IS RIGHT—WHILE YOU HAVE THE MONEY.

RUSHVILLE MAYS

SOCIETY

The regular meeting of the Taffy-Whirl club was not held yesterday as stated in yesterday's issue, but was postponed on account of the funeral services of Richard Pugh, which were held yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. John Kemple entertained at her home west of the city, Thursday with a noon-day dinner party. The guests were Mrs. Della Miller, Mrs. Lotti Stark, Mrs. Emma Laird, Mrs. Katherine Hodge, Mrs. Mollie Dearinger, Mrs. Vivian Miller and Mrs. Mattie Kemple. The day was spent with an informal social party.

The Young Men's Circle and the Loyal Daughters class of the Main Street Christian Sunday school enjoyed a social evening last night in the basement of the church. Thirty-five members of both classes were present and the evening was spent in games, contests and social conversation. At the close of the party delicious refreshments consisting of watermelons, were served.

The Ben Davis Missionary society met in the church parlors Wednesday afternoon. A very interesting program was given under the leadership of Mrs. Clara Russell. During the business hour three new members were added to the society and a Mission Band organized. The following officers were elected for the band: Mrs. Effie Haskett, superintendent; Miss Delphine Rees, assistant superintendent; president, Miss Helen Hinchman; vice-president, Miss Neoma Nash; secretary, Miss Frances Morris; treasurer, Miss Wilma Hunt. There are fourteen charter members. After the business session light refreshments were served during the social hour.

Miss Leona Hinchman and Mrs. May May were gracious hostesses for a prettily appointed dinner party yesterday at their home in North Main street, when they had as their honored guests, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Woolen and daughter, Mrs. Hyde and Miss Helen Hyde of Indianapolis. Mr. Woolen, who is past 82 years of age, and one of the widely known bird men and nature students of this state, visited Mrs. May yesterday in order to see her birds and beautiful trees. Mr. Woolen is a great student of nature and is now preparing a book on bird migration from America to Alaska. In spite of his advanced age, he is still actively engaged in his law business and is the father of Evans Woolen, former fuel administrator for Indiana.

EXPECT SUNDAY TO EQUAL RECORD

Mr. Watkins will arrive in the morning and will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wyatt during his stay in Rushville. He will speak in the afternoon on the subject, "The Faith of Our Fathers," and in the evening on "The Lordship of Jesus Christ."

The Hadley Concert company, composed of seven musicians, will be here Sunday and Monday. This is the only musical organization which will remain at the chautauqua more than one day. The Hadley company comes recommended as one which is so versatile and has such a wide variety that it can give four programs without any repetitions.

Professor George D. Wham of the Southern State Illinois State Normal University, Carbondale, Ill., one of the lectures at the county teacher's institute, will speak at the chautauqua Monday afternoon at three o'clock. Prof. Wham was here last year and his lectures before the teachers were a source of much information and inspiration for their work.

The other lecturer for the teachers institute which will be held in the mornings during the week in the court house assembly room, will be E. J. Dlewelyn, superintendent of the Newcastle schools, who will also act as platform manager again this year. He served in the capacity of platform director and institute lecturer last year.

The Flapper—Consider Her

By "MARJORIE"

New York, Aug. 7.—Consider the flapper. Her clothes must be dapper and just in the vogue like her Ma's. Her dress must be slinky—if not, 'twill be dinky, and kid gloves must cover her paws. Her gown must be satin; it's fit must not fatten. If figured with roses, 'tis well. A chalice or wooleo, a serge ('twill take bullion), will make her a damsel most swell. Sateen with a "figger" is also a winner. We've seen 'em all covered with fruit. Some merchants choose poses—blue "violets" or roses, and call the ensemble quite cute.

Leather belts are tres nifty, and if they get shifty you sew 'em down with some yarn. Even flowers made of leather resembling a tether make the source of her fashion the barn. The lids for the flappers don't come with soap wrappers. A bricklayer's wages might do. They make 'em of pleatings and even take sheefings. If they're mobby any old thing will do. Most of them have long tails to tickle the gales, and black is considered quite smart. If you see that her shoe is chesnut in hue, your daughter of fashion's a part. How much will it rock you? Don't let "free verse" shock you! They tell me three hundred will do it.

So if you have many 'tis many a penny you'll spend in the shops while you rue it. And if you believe in forswearing reprieve until the finale is written, there are trinkets galore on Gotham's wide shore for the man who with flapper is smitten. There are lip sticks and cases to fit any faces, canes and umbrellas and bags. There are undies and sundries from Orient countries, to peek at your jeans and then grab.

The Eggs May Have Been Fresh But the Story—!!!

(Connersville News-Examiner)

A Rushville Mrs. Newlywed who was reared in a large city went to the grocery store to do her morning marketing. And she was determined that the grocer should not take advantage of her youth and inexperience.

"These eggs are dreadfully small", she criticized.

"I know it, he answered, "But that's the kind the farmer brings me. They are just fresh from the country this morning."

"Yes" said the bride, "and that's the trouble with these farmers. They are so anxious to get their eggs sold that they take them off the nest too soon".

FRANCIS MOORMAN BETTER

Amputation of Arm Due to Blood Poisoning May be Unnecessary

Francis Moorman, son of Charles Moorman of this city, is in a hospital at Dayton, suffering with blood poisoning, and Bert Moorman, his brother, of this city, was called there yesterday when it appeared as if it would be necessary to amputate his arm. A message received last night stated that he showed slight improvement, and a consultation was to be held today by other physicians. Moorman is a tool maker, and it is believed that a piece of metal caused the poison. His family here was notified only recently of the alarming condition that he was in.

CHARLES GUILD DIES TODAY

News of Demise of Former Rushville Man is Received

Mrs. Alva E. Newhouse received word this morning of the death of her brother-in-law, Charles Guild, who expired this morning about 6:30 o'clock of heart trouble, at his home 1720 Broadway, Indianapolis. Mr. Guild has many friends and relatives living in this city, having formerly lived here prior to his residence in Indianapolis. His widow is the only survivor. No funeral arrangements had been made when the message was received this morning.

WOMEN SHOW AN ACTIVE INTEREST

their active participation in politics down to the precincts.

The district chairman pointed out the very grave necessity of completing the poll of republicans by September 4, when the first registration takes place in Indiana, so that it will be possible to check up and get all republicans registered at the second registration October 4.

Mrs. Mantelate told what had been accomplished by the women republicans of Marion county in the way of organization and Senator Watson also dwelt on the necessity of intensive organization, but spoke more on the larger aspects of the political campaign.

Senator Watson had to leave at three o'clock for the east but said that he would probably be back here early next week for a few days of the chautauqua. Beginning the middle of the week, however, he has practically every day taken until November 4 with speaking engagements.

Richard N. Elliott of Connersville, candidate for re-election to congress from this district, failed to arrive for the meeting. State Organizer McClasin telephoned from Greentield at one o'clock that he would arrive late in the afternoon but Fon Riggs, the county chairman, told him that he need not come because he probably could not reach Rushville before the meeting adjourned.

The women workers present, numbering between thirty and forty, listened attentively while organization speakers attempted to impress upon them the necessity of obtaining a complete and correct poll in order to get every voter registered; because unless the voters are registered, they can not cast a ballot at the election.

The district chairman explained the Indiana plan of organization, which calls for the appointment of ten helpers for each precinct committee, and also outlined the new plan for financing the campaign in nation, state and county. This new financing scheme contemplates a complete organization in each precinct.

QUESTIONNAIRE BRINGS MONEY FOR VACATION

In a certain Lake Division town, there's a mother of a former soldier who has nearly $100 extra to spend for herself this summer.

The Red Cross Home Service section in that community sent questionnaires to all ex-service men, asking them if all their war-time affairs had been satisfactorily settled.

The particular soldier in question was discharged soon after the Armistice and had never learned that some travel pay was due him. After he had read over the questionnaire he decided to look up the Home Service secretary and find out about some of the things noted among the queries. As a result he just received a check for $96.48 that he didn't know was due him until the Red Cross questionnaire came. He gave the money to his mother for a vacation. This is a typical example of the service given by the Red Cross.

FOUR MEN HELD ON $1,000 BOND

When the affidavits were served, Sheriff Jones stated today that all four of them had practically admitted their guilt and it is not expected that a trial will be necessary. Judge W. M. Sparks was expected home this afternoon from Winona Lake, when more definite information may be available.

It is not likely, however, that in case they want an arraignment, that sentence will be passed until the September term begins, unless Judge Sparks should order a special term of court for that purpose, court now being in vacation.

Sheriff Jones stated that the robbery of the clothing store here was planned more than a year ago, when someone "tipped" off the place to one of the men. They delayed the robbery, according to one of the men in jail here, because they were afraid to undertake it. Edward Beemer asserted that he didn't recall who it was that told them about the Rushville store, nor was he able to give the officials a description of the man. He said that he knew one or two Rushville men.

According to the story they told the sheriff, they came into Rushville on the night of the robbery, shortly after midnight, riding in a large touring car which belonged to one of the Beemer brothers. Both of them claim that they own large touring cars.

They asserted that the pedestal lights in the business district were extinguished about 2:30, and in the darkness of the city they waited for about thirty minutes, and then made their way to the rear of the store, where a window with bars, was pried open and an entrance gained to the store.

According to the sheriff, Shepherd, who is the largest of the four men, waited on guard on the outside of the store, and the other three entered the store, each one having a certain part to steal, one taking suits, the other neckwear and hats. Several hurried trips were made through the store, and only twenty minutes was required to ransack the building. Sheriff Jones stated that Beemer told him the money bag was grabbed and the $400 worth of checks were burned, and the cash divided equally among the four, each receiving about $80.00.

One of the Beemer brothers also asserted that he lost his cap in the store, but could not remember when he did it, and did not miss it until they were on their way to Muncie.

Much of the stolen goods was recovered, and only a small quantity had been sold. Estel Williams of Winchester having purchased a green cap for $2.50, buying it from James Martin of Winchester, one of the men in jail here.

Martin was arrested in Winchester and placed in jail, and his residence was searched. Silk shirts and other articles were found there, and when confronted with the evidence at the jail, he admitted his guilt and told about the robbery implicating the Muncie men, who were also arrested.

HOMER AT ARLINGTON

The Homer baseball team will play at Arlington tomorrow when it is said that Homer is going to Arlington with the expectation of winning, having loaded up for the game. A few weeks ago Homer was defeated at Arlington by a one sided score. A large crowd is expected to be on hand to see the game, and the manager of the Arlington team issued a warning today, stating that teams in this section claiming championship titles, had better take notice.

Dorothy Gish at the Princess

A domestic tempest in a teapot forms the plot of Dorothy Gish's new screen farce: "Remodeling Her Husband," coming to the Princess Theater today. The "Little Disturber" has the role of a young bride, recently married to a youth who bears the reputation of being a flirt. His weakness for a pretty face gets him into repeated difficulties, until finally Mrs. Newlywed leaves him tearfully and proceeds to become a power in the business world. But later she decides that hubby is worth while reforming and makes sure by a most novel means of his never back-sliding again.

Miss Gish's role is of the same vivacious type with which she has been identified in the past. "Remodeling Her Husband," is frankly for entertainment purposes only. The leading man is James Rennie, a popular stage player and a new recruit to the screen.

"The Third Generation"—Mystic

"The Third Generation" which was written and produced by Henry Kolker at the Theatre Monday. An all star cast will appear.

The story concerns Alden Van Dusen, the grandson of old Henry Van Dusen who founded the family before the time of the Civil War. Although inspired with the ideals of his grandfather, who has adopted the motto: "Integrity in business. Fidelity to family," young Van Dusen finds that his wife, the daughter of another old New York family insists on a great deal of social activity.

Though her inspirations he is led to neglect the business in which he is associated with Col. Alden, an old friend of the family, and Cuthbert Steel, a very hard-headed business man. Steele one day summons the two social lions of the firm and tells them that disaster is just ahead unless they consent to make over the best property of Van Dusen, Alden and Steele to a fourth and imaginary person, so as to save it from the inevitable smash. This does not appeal to Van Dusen. As he refuses, Steele in an ugly mood then suggests that one of the three die, and allow the other two to collect the $250,000 in insurance which will go to the others in case any of the three dies. Van Dusen, much depressed and discouraged, herein sees a way to save his family, and late that night, starts walking toward the East River.

BOY SCOUTS

(Conducted by National Council of the Boy Scouts of America)

SCOUTS WANT A BOY CENSUS

At the recent annual meeting of the National Council of the Boy Scouts of America, Vice President Mortimer L. Schiff in offering a resolution calling attention to the need of a more complete census of the youth of the nation, said that this was "a resolution having to do with what probably everybody connected with boy scout work has run up against, the lack of data about the youth in this country. As has been stated, we know the number of boys, but we don't know the number of girls."

The resolution declares that it is of the utmost importance that there should be available for use of the scouts and other organizations interested in the welfare of the youth of the nation, all possible data relating to this subject, and states that investigation has proved that practically no uniform data of this sort is available as a basis for a thorough study of the situation, and further development of their respective programs for the service of the youth.

It was therefore resolved to request that the federal government and the various states of the United States shall at their earliest convenience, through their various appropriate departments, collate and make available for the scouts' use and that of other organizations such data as will provide intelligent, efficient and economic promotion of the program tending to the making of good citizenship; and that the United States bureau of education, census bureau and department of child welfare be especially urged to collate such data as is absolutely necessary for a thorough investigation of the problems involved.

Here's a Little Suggestion for the Man Who Doesn't Need to Build

It is remarkable how a little lumber, a little paint and a good workman or two can make over a plain old fashioned, out-of-style house into a neat, attractive home. One man spent a few hundred dollars and the very day the simple improvements were completed he was offered $1,400 more for the property than he had ever been offered before.

The improvements he had made were better than a 100 per cent investment.

But it isn't altogether the money investment that ought to be considered. Maybe mother and the girls are dissatisfied with the plain old house. The neighborhood has been beautifying and your folks, too, may long for these attractive little features that make the passerby pause and say: "Now there's a neat little home."

Come in and see us. We have some interesting suggestions for economical remodeling. And we can supply the materials!

SAYS REPUBLICANS INTERMARRIAGES ARE TROUBLESOME PLAN ARMAMENT

Senator Robinson in Delivering Notification Speech Plays All Angles of Republican Platform

SCOFFS "FRONT PORCH" IDEA

Asserts Republican Party, if Elected, Would Cause U. S. to be Always Prepared for Conflicts

(By United Press.)

Dayton, Ohio, Aug. 7.—If the Republicans win control of the government, the United States thenceforth "always must be prepared for conflict on land and sea," declared Senator Robinson, of Arkansas today in his speech formally notifying Gov. Cox of his nomination for the president by the Democratic party.

Republican success, Robinson asserted, means that the U. S. "must be willing to pour billions into the treasuries of munitions makers. She must arm and train her sons in preparation for fiercer conflicts than the world has ever known. We must either enter this league to which our friends belong, or abandon for an indefinite period all hope of substituting argument for armament."

Robinson assailed Senator Harding's position on the treaty and the league. The Republican platform on the subject, he said, "is beyond the power of the human mind to analyze or understand. The Republican nominee has declared for the defeat of the treaty and the rejection of the league. He has made clear that it is no longer a controversy about reservations. It is proposed to restore peace by act of congress instead of by treaty and to leave unsettled all the vexed, and difficult questions growing out of the war. It is proposed to place Germany on an equal footing with our government in the negotiation of the treaty to leave here at liberty to reject our just demands and to attempt to impose upon us unreasonable obligations."

The Republican plan, if carried out, Robinson said, would constitute a surrender to Germany of all the advantages of victory. The idea of forming some other sort of international association for peaceful settlement of disputes is not feasible, Robinson said because virtually all the nations of importance now are in the league and would not withdraw to enter some other sort of organization. He declared that assaults on President Wilson and a continuation of the "Nagging" process carried on for a year and a half in the senate are to be made "the chief manifestations by the Republican nominees of their fitness for office."

Robinson said Cox was chosen without inducement or coercion from political bosses and that "neither midnight combinations nor plutocratic cabals were instrumental" in making him the party's choice.

"The honor and responsibility attending his responsibility came to you," said Robinson, "because your position respecting campaign issues is known to be in harmony with the platform adopted and because the record of your public service demonstrates rare leadership."

He scoffed at Harding's plan for a "front porch campaign" and said: "It is not expected that you will conduct a front porch campaign. It is not believed that you will wait for American people to come to you to hear your message, but that you will cheerfully carry it to them, confident of their approval of the cause you represent."

Robinson declared that "no mere speech maker, however, pleasing in personality, can meet the test which the public will require of the next president. No reactionary, no man who faces backward or who follows a leadership blind to the great problem of the new era can successfully discharge the duties of president during the period of reconstruction. The country calls for an experienced and progressive minded leader."

Assailing the Republican platform Robinson said that it "was deliberately made ambiguous in order to conceal irreconcilable difference of opinion," among Republicans. The democratic platform, on the other hand, he said is a clear definition of the party's stand on vital Democratic and foreign problems.

Robinson paid tribute to Cox's record as governor of Ohio, enumerating progressive laws enacted during his administration as evidence of its fitness for national leadership. Cox's position on woman suffrage, child welfare, labor questions, the budget system and other issues squares exactly with the declarations of the Democratic platform, he said.

CHEAP NOVEL IS THE CAUSE

London (By Mail).—London magistrates are perplexed over the problem of young girls infatuated with the yellow and black men who have their residence around Limehouse.

Miss Lee, a property owner and the guide, philosopher and friend of her Chinese tenants, says that in her experience the Chinamen, while they certainly do regard the wife as a chattel, are not cruel to her and quite a number of them are exceedingly chivalrous. "The men," she said, "do not go out of this district to look for the women. The women come here."

A woman missionary, after conversing with some of the young and pretty girls who have taken up permanent residence in Limehouse, says that in her opinion most of them go among the colored men in search of adventure, after reading sensational literature or seeing Chinese films. A few of these girls are of an educated and refined type, and many of them uncommonly pretty.

"There are many white wives in Chinatown," she said. "Heaps more today than in times past. One girl brings another. They are attracted by the strangeness and unfamiliar quality of the Oriental. The Chinese give no trouble, but the black men do. They have no such ideas of chivalry as the Chinamen have."

Recently at the Thames Police Court, Magistrate Cairns, said that extraordinary infatuation was the greatest problem he had to deal with.

COST 6 MILLION TO GRADUATE 7 PUPILS

A ROCKEFELLER INSTITUTION

(By United Press.) Shanghai, (By Mail).—After spending a little less than $1,000,000 a pupil in order to graduate the first class of medical students to take a course at the Union Medical College, the Rockefeller foundation, which sponsored the project has announced that a program for the expenditure of millions on a similar project in Shanghai had been abandoned. As a result of the announcement St. John's University, an Episcopal institution, has made public plans for a vast extension of its medical college here.

When the Rockefeller millions were poured into China about five years ago the other schools stepped aside and "marked time," their object being to allow the wealthy American a clear field in the development of the medical profession in the Far East.

Six million dollars were spent in the Peking venture, in construction costs and maintenance, and seven pupils were graduated.

WHEN we say it is our belief that the Hupmobile is the best car of its class in the world, we are simply voicing the opinions of those who know it best—its owners.
